Comments and Highlights on next page

Comments: Despite graduating a ton of seniors last year and being bulldozed by every opponent they've faced this year, this Thomas Jefferson team looks dangerous in the future. They've got numbers in the freshman and sophomore positions that are athletic and can hit the ball. Bridgette Komasincki is quite a coach. Like most of our matches this year the wind played a major factor in our play, but for the most part we hit our groundstrokes well.

Highlights: Jacob Heiden regained his #1 position from last year. In his match he started off a little slow, but he always seems to finish well. His doubles play was remarkably improved from our last match.

Nick Ingram's powerful serve once again blasted his opponent off the court. When it is on, it is very tough to handle.

Philip Keairnes bageled his opponent 10-0, despite playing an athletic junior.

In doubles, Philip Keairnes and Ryan Petersen worked on a variety of strategies to improve their play. It paid off in their 10-1 win.

Joel Aurand and Andrew Hrabik extended their doubles record to a perfect 4-0. They are very strong #3 doubles team. Their depth is going to help us in our close matches this year.

In their high school debuts, Josh Tucker and Alex Davis looked good in their JV wins.
