Comments from the Monarch coaching staff:

The Monarch Girls Wrestling season came to a close on Friday night in Nevada. While the ultimate goal of punching a ticket to state didn't happen, the message goes back to the first day of practice of when we said that the process needs to be the first priority because the results will follow. We still believe that will hold true especially for those 4 freshmen in our lineup as well as Andrea, Tricia Collins, Andrea Alcaraz, and Emelie Martinez all made it into the 3rd place match and wrestling to their seeds. As coaches, we understood that there were going to be growing pains as there were 2 of 8 girls that went to regionals last year in our lineup this season. The 5 girls that we have returning next season were able to gain valuable experience throughout the season, and we look forward to that challenge come next November. We are proud of the fight and resiliency of this team the entire season as they are a great representation of the Denison community. Our one senior in the lineup, Gracen Plagge, was able to accomplish a lot in the two seasons that we had the opportunity to work with her. She finishes her wrestling career with over 50 wins in those two seasons, multiple come from behind wins, and especially this season, to be a role model and someone that I think our team could go to in any situation on and off the mat. We have no doubt that she will go on and continue to do great things in her remaining sports as a senior and use these experiences that she's gained from wrestling not just in those other sports, but life. We are excited for what the future holds for this program as the hunger and buy in is only growing.
