Comments and Highlights on next page

Comments: Harlan is starting to get numbers for their tennis team and they will continue to improve. Fortunately for us, they are still young and our senior laden squad was able to overcome their inexperience. The wind was horrible today. Getting experience playing in it only benefits us for the continued wind in spring.

Highlights: Owen Galvin's passing shots were exceptional today. His opponent tried to use the significant wind by coming to the net on every opportunity, but strong passing shots ruined that strategy.

Grant Fink dealt with the wind and his opponent's aggressive net play differently by lobbing instead. Once dialled in, Grant found a way to roll in his 8-2 win.

Roman Bygness' first serve was strong in the wind and was almost unreturnable by his opponent. In doubles with Cesar Cardona, Jr., they overcame a 1-3 deficit to win 8-4.

It was terrific to see the JV pitch a shutout today. It signals good things for future seasons.
