Comments:

The JV Monarchs were back in action tonight against the Atlantic Trojans on Wednesday. Grant Fink was able to go the distance tonight throwing 5 shutout innings and only allowing one run in the 3rd. He followed that up with 8 strikeouts for the second time this season. We threatened early in the first, but stranded Cale Paulsen at 3rd as he made his way around after being hit by pitch. The following inning the Monarchs were able to end the top of the frame with a 6-4-3 double play started by Luke Ullrich at second base. Atlantic struck in the 3rd inning with the lone run in the game that would end up being the difference. Looking ahead to Thursday, the Monarchs will face the Harlan Cyclones to try and get back in the win column. The pitching has been a strong point early in the season and now we look to improve approaches at the plate to manufacture run production in the future.
