Comments from Head Coach Raegan Magnuson :	The State Cross Country Meet is always an incredible atmosphere. You're surrounded by some of the best runners in the state, and the energy and competition are on a whole different level! Today, Kevin competed at state, and what a way to wrap up his high school cross country career! He has made tremendous strides throughout his career, and today was a reminder of just how far he has come. After missing out on qualifying for state last year, Kevin used that disappointment as motivation all season long. He had a goal of getting back to Fort Dodge, and he put in the work to make it happen. Kevin was never satisfied with where he was. He was always wanting more and pushing himself to get better. Looking back at his first state meet as a sophomore, Kevin ran over 30 seconds faster today. That improvement says a lot about the hard work, determination, and grit he has shown throughout his career. But one of my favorite parts of today wasn't even about his time. It was seeing Kevin smile throughout the entire race. You could tell he was genuinely enjoying the moment and taking it all in. Not many athletes can say they've competed at the state meet, let alone more than once. Kevin can, and he made sure to appreciate that opportunity. He left absolutely everything he had out on that course today in his final high school cross country race. We couldn't be prouder of how Kevin competed today, but what makes us even prouder is the pride he took in representing our program, school, and community. It's been so rewarding to watch Kevin grow over the years, both as a runner and a person. He leaves some big shoes to fill in our program, but we couldn't be more excited to see what his future holds next!
