Comments from the Monarch coaching staff:

The Monarchs were able to go 1-1 in dual action tonight. We did a lot of good things in all positions. There were quite a few open weights throughout the night so it made the dual go fast. Our wrestlers are continuing to learn each time they step on the mat. I am impressed with how much we have learned throughout this year. We still need to do a better job on bottom. We get turned to our hip too often. We need to be able to hold a stronger base and work to a switch or a standup. This was a very special meet for me as a coach. On the other side of the mat tonight for Ridge View was my old high school coach Troy Greder and my former wrestler Parker Preul. It was fun to have 3 generations of Monarch wrestling still competing with one another. The Monarch wrestlers will be back in action again on Saturday at the Griswold tournament.
