Comments from head coach Nick Bradley :

The Monarch wrestling team finished off a grueling wrestling week with a 7th place finish at the Carroll Tournament. Our guys had to face some tough competition today. We battled hard, but we came up short on some of our first round matches. We continue to learn and grow and that impresses the coaching staff. We truly have guys that want to win. Joel Murillo and Garret Plagge both had great days. They both made their first finals in a tournament for the season. Both came up short of winning the tournament, but they both learned a lot about making and being in the finals. All the guys now get a well-deserved break until January. We will go over a ton of new technique over the break and then get back to action in January.
